SSA'S 45TH ANNIVERSARY 2020 FALL CONFERENCE

Our program will feature Virtual Vignettes, short enough to keep you engaged, long enough to keep you riveted.

Hello SSA Members!

We are sending positive thoughts for the health and wellbeing of you, your families, employees and businesses. This year, our collective spirit has been put to the test, and we as an industry have responded with tremendous compassion for the neighborhoods that we serve.

The Self Storage Association has heard from many of you; we understand that you are thirsty to meet, but not necessarily ready to accept the uncertainty just yet.

Planning for our industry gatherings involves significant preparation from our staff, board, volunteers, presenters and participants. Clearly it is evident that this September is too soon to hold an event where our group will be comfortable with travel and gathering, as strange as this reality is to accept.

We are particularly disappointed for our vendor members that a trade show is not possible this year. In our opinion, this is one area that cannot be ideally replicated virtually. Our board thanks all suppliers to self storage operators for the critical role they fill in helping our industry progress.

Our 45th Anniversary will be celebrated with an unprecedented collection of talent, with the help of the amazing technology we have all come to appreciate over the past few months. As you can see, your industry leadership is stepping up to help us maintain our sense of community and to reaffirm our resilience as never before.

Thank you for making plans to join us in this way, until we meet again.

Self Storage Success: Making Tax Reform Work For You

Carly Ferris, Capstan Tax Strategies

In these unprecedented times, everyone is looking to improve cash flow. The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act) includes several provisions that allow taxpayers to revisit acquisitions and construction completed in earlier, more profitable years, and generate even more value. The CARES Act and Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) have created a wealth of new opportunities for the savvy self-storage owner.

This recent legislation can help you keep your hard-earned profits, if you just know how to leverage it. The key is a thorough Cost Segregation Study – that's how these benefits can be obtained. This session will take a high-level look at everything that's important to self-storage owners in this new era including: Bonus and Qualified Property, Qualified Improvement Property (QIP), Section 179, Expensing and Dispositions, and of course Cost Segregation as the vehicle for tax savings. A number of self storage examples will be presented.

Helping Leaders and Staff Manage Stress In 2020

Jessie Lamb, Strat Property Management

A 2014 Nielsen survey says that 80% of employees reported being stressed, and 42% of employees have left a job at some point due to stress in the work place. We are left to wonder what those numbers would look like if they did the same survey in 2020? We are going through a very stressful time, and our staff and leaders are bringing that pressure to work. In this program attendees will be introduced to skills and strategies to manage their own stress, and ideas to promote stress management within their organization.

Stress Management:

- ◆ Identifying Signs of Stress
- ◆ Assessing Sources of Stress In Your Life
- ◆ Myths and Facts About Stress
- ◆ Simple Tips for Immediately Reducing Stress
- ◆ Promoting and Teaching Stress Management at Work

The New Era in Self Storage Project Due Diligence

RK Kliebenstein, Coast-to-Coast Realty Advisors

Self storage is not as simplistic as some would have you believe, especially this year. Developing a project and doing it correctly is always an expensive and complex process when done correctly, particularly with the challenges we're seeing in 2020. The risks are very high and the rewards compelling. Cutting corners is a recipe for project failure. In this session, focus will be on these key areas:

- ◆ Overall Strategy
- ◆ Exit Strategy
- ◆ What to build
- ◆ Where do I build - Market Selection
- ◆ Site Selection
- ◆ Capital Stack
- ◆ How do I know if the project has the best chance of success?
- ◆ Who is on my team?
- ◆ How do I find the right people?
- ◆ When do I abandon the project?

Finding the "right" location and project is very difficult, and in fact, a lot more sites/projects will fail the test than pass. Success, however, is very sweet... an accomplishment worth considering. Do I do it again?

Prevails and Pitfalls of E-mail and Affordable E-Sign in the Self Storage Industry

Zafar Khan, RPost

In this session, we'll discuss the prevails and pitfalls self storage industry has encountered as it works to digitally transform operations. E-Signatures now need to be able to accommodate in-store and remote e-signing --- and with everything electronic, must be affordable at scale. Email is quick, easy, and inexpensive. Paper, mail, certified mail, and managing mail green card receipts is cumbersome and expensive. Trends are to digitally transform operations. Better operations reduces operator costs, increases operator revenue and therefore increases operator overall enterprise value. Done right, proof of email notice delivery and recording e-consent can speed business, reduce cost, speed recovery of uncollectables, and speed resale of unresponsive space. Done wrong, without regard to compliance with state and federal lien, e-sign, and notification laws, may save time now but will likely cost big in the future. Learn from experts, platforms, and operators about what works and what to avoid.

Auditing Your Self Storage Facility

Magen Smith, Atomic Storage Group

Learn how to audit your storage property like a pro! Go beyond looking at locks to dig deep into the data of self storage to audit for theft, operational improvements and opportunities for making more money. Even in these uncertain times, the basics for auditing remain the same.
